

Desire, Time, & Effort: Time, Effort and Desire

How does it feel inside the maze?

How do you spend your hours & days?

Do you push yourself to follow a plan? Here's something to help you understand

Life can be so frustrating, confusing and aggravating

Three key words will get you going, keep you moving, keep you growing

Time, effort and desire. You'll find that you'll be reaching higher

What you want deserves your best, put your all into this test

Light your inner fire with time, effort and desire

Someone out there's had your trouble, maybe even had it double

They found a way to overcome by working hard, not being dumb

You too can get through your trial, experience is so worthwhile

Put work into what you believe, you will be amazed what you achieve

With time, effort and desire you'll find that you'll be reaching higher

Success comes when you're not denying, winners win 'cause they keep trying

Light your inner fire with time, effort and desire

Stuck on a dead end road, out on a one way track

Lost in a sea of doubt, how can you make it out?

If you want it, got to give your all, don't give up when you take a fall

Life's a game you want to win, you must jump up again

With time, effort and desire you'll find you will be reaching so much higher

Start it for yourself right now, you know the why you know the how

Light your inner fire with time, effort and desire
